

Conditions of acceptance on commissions

1. Acceptance, duration of period

We accept on commission only designer items – for both men and women - that are in perfect condition and have just been dry cleaned. Articles not accepted must be collected again at latest 14 days after written or telephone notification, otherwise these will be applied for charitable purposes (as mentioned below ).

The period of commission ends at latest at the end of the current fashion season:

Spring/Summer: 30 September

Autumn/Winter: 30 March

Unsold items are to be collected by the owners by 30 October or 31 May, respectively, at latest. Goods not collected by the deadline will be presented to charity organizations at latest six months later. No claims to refund or substitution will be entertained.

2. Apportionment of sales proceeds

The owner agrees that during the period on commission, prices reductions of up to 50% may be made. A further reduction may be made for end-of-season sales at the commission agent's discretion. Fixed prices may be negotiated in isolated cases.

The supplier shall receive 45% of the sale proceeds. Settlement for the owner shall be effected by bank transfer. Settlements by cheque or in cash will only be made after prior agreement by telephone. No settlements can be made on Fridays or Saturdays.

3. Insurance, liability

Goods are only insured for the period that they are accepted on commission, and then only against burglary, fire and/or water damage, and up to a maximum of € 25 per piece. Any further liability of the commission agent, in particular for damage, soiling or disappearance of the goods is entirely excluded insofar as this is legally permissible.

§ 390 HGB (German commercial law) is expressly waived insofar as loss or damage of the goods taken on commission is not related to intent and/or gross negligence. This exclusion of liability shall also apply to the commission agent's employees and other staff.
